Short description of the course

Interdisciplinary Project Design for exchange students is a 2x half-semester design course in English, organized by two departments - one design and one engineering - for "PUBLIC LOFT!" Project the departments of Public Building Design and Building Constructions. The object of the course is to introduce a multi-level design method for students - from general concept to an architectural synthesis. Architectural design based on the analysis of the location, natural and cultural heritage, personal architectural attitude, architectural details is going to give a common frame for individual proposals. Teamwork and individual work will constantly implement and define each other. The semester will also give space to work on some contemporary questions in architecture and construction design, like basic philosophical statements about utilisation of lofts, their constructions, functions, the interdisciplinary sustainability of planned solutions, the relationship and social aspects of public and private spaces, the spatial intimacy, effects of landscape design, etc.

Structure of the semester

Three main phases form the basic structure of the course:

1. Engrossment – in personal impact of the topic, in first impressions of a new environment, in the given informations
2. Analysis – discovering the characteristics of the location: history, layers, development plans, etc. The analysis starts with individual exploration, but the final workgroups of 2-4 people will take on the analysis together. From the beginning a teamwork involving all the class will take place based on the discussions of the findings and of the differences of cultures and visions..
3. Wayfinding – architectural behavior, interpreting the context: building and landscape design. A full documentation of an architectural intervention will be developed in scale 1:200 / 50. Design work will be assisted by consultations in class, and common presentation is held whit collective critical evaluation.
